

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENT

If You Are a Profit Participant on a Motion Picture Released by Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation for Home Video, or Electronic Sell-Through, You May Financially Benefit from a Class Action Settlement

What is This Settlement About?

A settlement has been reached in a class action lawsuit over how Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation (“Fox”) calculated profit participation relating to revenue derived from the sale of Home Videos (e.g. physical copies such as videocassettes, DVDs, and Blu-Ray), Electronic Sell-Through (e.g. digital copies delivered for permanent download such as from iTunes or Amazon), and Video-on-Demand (“VOD”) (e.g. streaming on services like Netflix) on certain motion pictures. The settlement is not an admission of wrongdoing and the Court has not decided who is right and who is wrong. Instead, the parties decided to settle the dispute.

Am I a Class Member?

You may be a Class Member if you are a person or entity (or their successors-in-interest, assigns, and heirs) who is a party to a “Class Profit Participation Contract” (defined by the Settlement Agreement as a Profit Participation Contract using form definitions drafted by Fox before May 31, 1989, that, either as initially drafted or later amended, do not state an express percentage of Home Video Revenue and/or Electronic Sell-Through Revenue to use in calculating a Profit Participation). To obtain more information regarding whether you are a Class Member, please visit www.FoxHomeVideoSettlement.com, email FoxHVS@administratorClassAction.com, or call 1-844-611-5265.

What Does the Settlement Provide?

This settlement provides a total of $12.6 million comprised of: (1) an $11.5 million Recouped Settlement Fund, which will be used to pay recouped profit participants who are already receiving profit participation on their contracts, less approved fees and costs; and (2) a $1.1 million Unrecouped Settlement Fund, which will be used to pay unrecouped profit participants who are not yet receiving profit participations on their contracts, less approved fees and costs. You may receive benefits from either or both of these funds if you qualify and comply with this notice.
